SCIENCE CHANGES PEOPLE'S LIVES.

We help scientists break through the barriers standing in their way.

For more than 30 years, RCH has provided unmatched specialization designing and deploying cross-functional IT strategies, supporting R&D infrastructure, and offering workflow best practices that help Life Sciences firms of all size advance the development of novel treatments and technology.

Advisory Services

Better guidance and support for both short-and longterm computational science initiatives developed by unmatched focus, expertise, and experience.

Sci-T Managed Services

A unique, full-service model for strategy and execution that flips the typical staff augmentation model on its head to maximize flexibility, accountability, continuity and, ultimately, results.

Hardware & Software

VAR and support provider for a range of commercial, proprietary, and cloudbased solutions essential to enterprise/R&D IT and research science needs.

A Specialist for Your Specialized Needs

Unlike typical outsourced IT models, we exclusively focus in the unique space where science and IT overlap.
